

Comments received by TCP# 0196

Comment ID	Organization	Comment	Response
412	Individual	Is there a need for a separate detail illustrating the approach slab configuration where a Multi-Use Path and separation barrier is provided?	The separation barrier detail at the approach slab for CIP Approach slab is shown on SS110-110 & SS110-11. The Precast Approach Slabs are typically used in remote areas where MUP is not required. In an urban context, there is no need to accelerate the construction of an MUP or sidewalk on a bridge because the same condition exists beyond the bridge, and we are not in the habit of building precast sidewalk